Canada Celebrates Birthday

Spotlights World For Good Water

Expo 67 hostess with a new water purifier, selected to portray the importance of water quality to man's health.

MONTREAL — This year the International spotlight is focused on Canada as it celebrates its 100th birthday as a nation — and the outstanding event — Expo 67, the Canadian Universal and International Exposition. Seventy-seven nations are participating, each depicting some aspect of the central theme, "Man and His World." One of the main Expo attractions is the "Man and His Health" exhibit. As one enters, a 21 foot high "graphic wall" depicts the role of research in man's progress toward health, and gives examples of present and potential serious problems affecting man's health. Good health — man's prime essential to work, to play, to build, and to enjoy his world — is based upon good water, good air and good food.

Calligan's Aqua 1 Water Purifier was selected to portray a new technique developed for desalination of water, which is now being used to convert water from almost any source into high-quality drinking water. This new development, using the "reverse osmosis" principle, is the first household appliance which produces water of high quality and purity for drinking, cooking, food preparation and many other uses. In every area of the world it is of utmost importance that the one quart of water a man needs daily for drinking is absolutely safe. Because it has the capability of removing bacteria and viruses, the reverse osmosis process has great potential for providing safe drinking water to those underdeveloped areas of the world where polluted water is the source or carrier of many serious epidemic diseases. The Aqua 1 Water Purifier can turn salty water into fresh water. It can also transform ordinary city or private well water supplies into water of extremely high quality. Cloudiness, sediment, undesirable dissolved minerals, organic matter, detergents, offensive color, bad odors and bad tastes, such as chlorine, are removed by the purifier, to produce crystal clear palatable water.

Armed Forces Show September 8

The Armed Forces Centennial Caravan will be visiting the Crows Nest Pass and will put on its demonstration and performance at the Blaimore Recreation Grounds on September 8th.

The Armed Forces Caravan is a combination of a static display section and stage show. The display section, consisting of five 50-foot trailers in addition to outdoor equipment exhibits, will portray some of the history of the Armed Forces, the roles and functions of several units stationed in Alberta.

The show section of the Caravan, comprising 10 different acts, is filled with action and variety and will be approximately one and a half hours long. The show will feature such action events as a mortar gun race, a gymnastic display team, an unarmed combat display, a quick dis-assembly and assembly jeep, and an act depicting the development of military drill.

The colorful and famous Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry regimental band will be on hand to entertain spectators with martial and popular music and intricate drill manoeuvres. The finale will be the traditional Retreat ceremony, when all members of the cast will be in the performing arena.

The entire display and performances are free and every one is invited to attend this special event.

Post-Nuptial Reception Held

The Catholic Hall was the scene of a post-nuptial reception recently, when Mr. and Mrs. Bob Campbell entertained a large gathering of family and friends in honor of their son Tom and his bride (the former Carmel McPherson) who were married on August 8th in Sidney, N.S.

Wm. Goodwins orchestra provided the music for dancing and following a delicious supper served at 11 p.m., the young couple opened the many lovely gifts presented to them, then warmly and graciously thanked their assembled friends.

Among the numerous out of town guests were the bridal attendants Mr. and Mrs. Gary Haack of Drayton Valley, the grooms maternal grandmother Mrs. E. Goldring of Vancouver and Wing Commander Tom Goldring of Yorkton, Sask.

The young couple have now taken up residence in Calgary.

Heavy Smoke In The Pass

Dense clouds of smoke blocked out the sun in the Crows Nest Pass district Friday afternoon and during the evening heavy wood ash was falling throughout the district.

The smoke and ash are reported to be the result of a large forest fire in the Kallispell (Mont.) district. Motorists driving around the Pass last night report that the falling ash gave the appearance of a light snow storm. Persons walking outside report a considerable amount of ash on their clothing and hair.

Meanwhile fire fighters from the Forestry Department and the town of Blaimore were called out near midnight September 2nd to put out a grass fire that started along the railway tracks near the Crows Nest Pass Municipal Hospital. The fire was extinguished before it reached the nearby forests.

Site Holding Up New School

The choice of a suitable site is the main problem facing the Crows Nest Pass School Division in its attempt to give the Pass a large composite high school.

At present the Oldman District Planning Commission is conducting a Regional Survey and the results of their study should be disclosed by the end of this year (1967).

In view of this survey and a possible highway change under study by the Department of Highways, the board deemed it wise to use caution in their selection of a site.

Until such time as the site is selected, nothing can be done in regard to planning the school by the architect. Further research and planning will be carried on by the School Division and it is hoped construction can begin in 1968.

INAUGURAL PARADE. Pipe band marches past an American Airlines 707 Astrojet at Toronto International Airport during ceremonies marking inaugural of new services by the airline between Toronto and Chicago and Toronto and the U.S. West Coast. American Airlines now operates two nonstop flights a day in each direction between Toronto and Los Angeles — the only nonstop service to the City of the Angels. Six roundtrip flights a day are offered on the Toronto-Chicago run. Two of these trips go on to Los Angeles and San Francisco and return to Toronto by way of Chicago. P. E. Priestman, American's general manager for Canada, predicted that the expansion of operations by his airline would add a million dollars a year to the Canadian economy. The larger airplanes used in these new services also have expanded freight capacity. American now handles almost one million pounds a month — loaded and unloaded — at Toronto International.

More Coking Coal Forecast For Japan

VANCOUVER, B.C. — Japanese steel mills forecast a need to import an extra 10 million tons of coking coal by 1970 and are looking at Canadian coal, its price, and transportation problems, to ascertain what portion of the added requirements Canada will be able to supply.

Jinzo Saito, manager of the raw materials research department of Nippon Kokan Kaisha, who heads the Japanese "Coking Coal Survey Mission" to Canada told a press conference here Friday, August 18, that Canadian coal was under "keen competition from six other countries".

The nine-man mission of geologists and engineers will spend one month looking over British Columbia and Alberta coal mines and transportation facilities.

In mid-September the mission will go to Ottawa for talks with the Dominion Coal Board.

Saito pointed out that the main aim of the mission is to study the technological problems involved in the supply of Canadian coals to Japan over a long period of time.

He pointed out, however, that one of the major problems Canada faces is that of transportation to tidewater.

While Canadian coal has to travel about 700 miles to dockside, he said, Australian coal in some cases is within 20 miles of tidewater, and in no instance is more than 105 miles away.

Some questions and answers were:

Q. Is Japan's demand for coal easing off?

A. There has been a rapid growth of the Japanese steel industry during the past decade. The growth tapered off a little during our recent recession but is now continuing apace. Three large new mills are under construction and one more large mill is in the planning stage in anticipation of the growing demand for steel. Some of the production of the efficient new mills will replace production of older plants. Nippon Kokan's new Fukuyama Iron Works now in production, is being expanded to a yearly capacity of 8 million tons, he said.

Q. Which is the most important consideration: price, quality or transportation costs of the Canadian coal?

A. The coal must be of the quality required by the mills, otherwise we are not interested in it.

Costwise, the method of mining is important. In certain cases the most up-to-date equipment does not necessarily reduce the cost. The best way to reduce the cost is to have equipment to match the type of seam being worked.

Transportation is a big factor because this is a large part of the overall cost.

Q. How is coal bought — at the minehead, or loaded on the ship?

A. The coal is bought F.O.B. the ship at the exporting port. However, we are interested in the transportation cost factor because both parties should be enjoying good business. If the cost is high, the competition becomes too keen, and there would be a loser.

Q. Is Robert Bank "Superport" development necessary for long-range purchase of Canadian coal?

A. It is not our function to tell Canadians what facilities they should consider desirable.

Q. What about a pipeline from coal mine to tidewater?

A. A pipeline was built in the eastern U.S. but this was abandoned because the railway rate was reduced to make the rail haul competitive. Not all technical problems of pipeline transport of slurry have been solved.

Q. What about Japanese investment in coal mines in Western Canada?

A. This may be a possibility in the future but in the past coal producing companies in Canada have not found it necessary to request Japanese investment.

Q. When will the additional coal be needed in Japan. When will the four new steel mills be ready for operation?

A. By about 1970. Production then will be estimated at 56 million tons in terms of pig iron.

By that time about 44 million tons of coal will be required—about 11 million tons will come from domestic sources. This will mean about 33 million tons will be required from overseas. That will be about 10 million tons more than at present.

Q. What competition does Canada face?

A. We recently signed a three-year contract with Poland for coal. We also import coal from Red China, U.S.S.R., West Germany, U.S.A. and Australia. Other sources are being studied, but there is nothing definite.

At the present time 40 per cent of Japanese coal is imported from the U.S.A., 40 per cent from Australia (this includes 10 per cent soft coal), 8 per cent from U.S.S.R., 5 per cent from Canada, 4 per cent from Red China, 2 per cent from Poland and 1 per cent from West Germany.

During our visit we will study availability of a low-volatile Canadian coal which could replace U.S. coal from Virginia.

The itinerary includes a visit to Smoky River near Grande Prairie, Edson, Leduc, Panther, Camrose, Varsity at Coleman, Balmar, Fernie and Elk River.

Visits will also be made to Edmonton and Calgary.

Increased Duck Limits For Alberta Hunters In 1967

The 1967 Migratory Bird Regulations, released today by the Canadian Wildlife Service, Department of Indian Affairs and Northern Development reveal that bag and possession limits for ducks have been raised to eight and sixteen. Limits in 1966 were six and twelve. Take of mallards is restricted in Zones 1, 3, 4, and 5 — in those zones not more than five may be taken daily and not more than ten may be possessed. On and after October 14 two additional shaupe or golden-eye may be taken per day and four additional may be possessed.

Limits for geese this year are five and ten, of which not more than two and four may be white-fronted geese. Limits for rails and coots are eight and sixteen, except that Indians, Eskimos, Metis and other persons living by trapping and hunting may take twenty-five daily with no possession limit. Limits for Wilson's snipe are ten and twenty.

Season dates are as follows:

Ducks, Rails, Coots, and Wilson's Snipe — Zone 1—Sept. 4 to Dec. 2; Zone 2—Sept. 11 to Dec. 2; Zone 3—Sept. 22 to Dec. 2; Zone 4—Goose Management Area, Sept. 22 to Dec. 2; Zone 5—Sept. 22 to Dec. 2; Zone 6—Sept. 22 to Dec. 2.

Canada Geese and White-fronted Geese — Zone 1—Sept. 4 to Dec. 2; Zone 2—Sept. 11 to Dec. 2; Zone 3—Sept. 22 to Dec. 2; Zone 4—Goose Management Area—Sept. 22 to Dec. 2; Zone 5—Sept. 22 to Dec. 2; Zone 6—Sept. 22 to Dec. 2.

Other Geese — Zone 1—Sept. 4 to Dec. 2; Zone 2—Sept. 11 to Dec. 2; Zone 3—Sept. 22 to Dec. 2; Zone 4—Goose Management Area—Oct. 9 to Dec. 2; Zone 5—Sept. 22 to Dec. 2; Zone 6—Sept. 22 to Dec. 2.

Every hunter must purchase a Canada migratory game bird hunting permit. These permits are on sale at most post offices for $2.00.

Permits were sold for the first time in 1966. In Alberta nearly 53,000 permits were sold. Over 380,000 permits were sold in the whole of Canada. Sales record will be used to carry out a questionnaire survey of hunters to find out where and when they hunt, how many birds of each species are killed, and where and when these birds are killed. Such information — more accurate and complete than has ever before been available — will enable improved management and thus increased hunting opportunity.

Fully grown bottlenose porpoises sometimes weigh more than 500 pounds.

be very active in Masonic circles, being secretary of Summit Lodge No. 30 for years. After advancing to district deputy grand master of the 8th Masonic district, he became grand junior warden of the Grand Lodge of Alberta in 1924, and he would have achieved the grand master's chair if death had not intervened.

After apparently having been in good health up to two days previous to his death, a serious situation developed that required major surgery, but it was to no avail, and he died on February 13, 1925, at the age of 70.

His funeral was the largest Masonic funeral witnessed up to that time in the Crows Nest Pass area, the procession of brethren stretching from his residence to the church. It was followed by another service at Red Deer, when he was buried beside his wife in the Red Deer Cemetery.

His son Charles, together with his wife and their son William, subsequently moved to Vancouver, where he participated in the annual gatherings there of former Red Deer residents. His sister Lou, who had been prominent in the Alexandra Club, was married at Knox Presbyterian Church, Red Deer to Nelson Murphy, son of N. S. Murphy of Melville, N. S., on December 26, 1926. PIONEERS OF CENTRAL ALBERTA— William Ouimette Was Early Partner In Store—Later Mayor Of Coleman

(Red Deer Advocate)

(This is another in a series of articles on the pioneers of Red Deer and district. The articles are being contributed by the Archives Committee as its Centennial project)

WILLIAM LOUIS OUIMETTE

Few men became as well known and as prominent in the business, civic and fraternal circles of Red Deer within a comparatively short period of time as William Louis Ouimette.

He was born at Prescott, Ont., on January 8, 1865, the son of Charles and Christine (Marquis) Ouimette, the former a native of Scotland and the latter born in Ontario.

In 1872, at the early age of 17, he became connected with a general store business in Londonborough, Huron County, Ontario where during three decades, he built up a good business and became prominent in public affairs, also serving the community as postmaster for over 20 years. While there, he was married to Ellen M. Riddle, who was born in Londonborough, and it was there that the two Ouimette children, Charles and Lou, were born.

In 1902 Mr. Ouimette decided to locate in the West, and he purchased the general store business in Red Deer of R. C. Brumpton, which he operated in conjunction with Hugh Wallace as Ouimette and Wallace. The partnership was entered into with Joseph Wright and when Everett Martin withdrew it became Ouimette and Wright. The business was located in the premises on the south side of Ross Street, just west of the intersection with Gaetz Avenue, which over a period of well over sixty years, has housed a long succession of mercantile enterprises, and is now occupied by Jack's Department Store.

With an excellent business opening for Mr. Ouimette and his sons in prospect at Coleman, Alberta, a series of sales to liquidate their stock was inaugurated in November, 1907, and the premises were again taken over by Mr. Brumpton for a general store business in March, 1908.

Mr. Ouimette had early evinced a very active interest in community and fraternal affairs. In 1906 and 1907, he was president of the Board of Trade and he also served as a member of the hospital board, and for the season of 1907-08 he was president of the Red Deer Curling Club.

Fraternally, he was one of those most prominently concerned in the institution of Kenworth Lodge No. 29 A.F.M. on March 13, 1907, of which he was the first Worshipful Master and the first treasurer. He was also a member of the Home Circle of Ontario.

In April, 1908, Mr. Ouimette and his son Charles, left to take charge of the business they had purchased at Coleman. The father taking over management of a grocery business while the son managed a men's wear store. Both father and son soon became very active in the affairs of the town, and in March, 1909, Charles became secretary-treasurer of the town of Coleman and in May he was appointed town clerk, and about the same time his father was elected president of the Coleman Board of Trade.

In 1912 Mr. Ouimette, sr., became mayor of Coleman, a capacity in which he served for four years, discharging his official duties with the same conscientiousness and efficiency he brought to bear in the conduct of his own business interests.

Mrs. Ouimette was active in the work of the Presbyterian Church, and highly respected by all who knew her, and her death at Coleman on January 22, 1914, came as a sore blow to the family. She is buried in the Red Deer Cemetery.

Following her death, Mr. Ouimette lived with his son Charles, who was married at Coleman, and the relationship between father and son from both a business and living standpoint, proved to be a particularly harmonious and happy one.

Charles Ouimette enlisted early in the First World War and was seriously wounded and gassed while overseas. While enroute to England from France on the hospital ship Angus, late in the fall of 1915, the ship struck a mine, and he floated around for some time in the English Channel, supported by a lifebelt, before being rescued.

when the peddler selling printing supplies solicits your business, there are a few questions which he should be willing to answer to your satisfaction:

1. Does he pay taxes in this community?
2. Can he supply your order on short notice?
3. Does he donate space in the newspaper to your local community enterprises?
4. Does he pay wages to a force of employees located in Coleman?
5. Does his newspaper donate its space toward the betterment and upbuilding of this community?
6. Does he grant you every favor that you would ordinarily ask your local newspaper?
7. Does the quality of his merchandise stand inspection?
8. Does his price include sales tax, postage and insurance charges?

If he can answer ALL the above questions in the affirmative, he has an equal right to your business.

The dead classroom

A startling and proven fact: one classroom of high school students is wiped out every week because of car accidents.

It is an unbearable statistic, but true. More young Canadians are killed in automobile accidents than by any other cause.

Young drivers as a group are involved in more automobile accidents than any other drivers. This is the simple reason insurance rates are higher for them.

We, in the automobile insurance industry, provide training courses, bursaries and technical assistance to high school instructors to help them teach safe driving to their students.

Students who pass approved high school driver training courses earn lower insurance premiums.

At present, only 14% of high schools across Canada have these driver training courses.

Parents, teachers — just ask yourselves: Must a classroom be wiped out next week?

You can help prevent such tragedies by supporting driver training programmes in your community.

Frozen Fruits—

There are essentially three ways to pack fruits for freezing. Flavor and texture will be superior if a syrup pack is used. The unsweetened pack is suitable for fruits to be used in pies or jams—and, of course, for special diets.

Sugar Pack—

Berries and juicy fruits may be sliced, sprinkled with sugar, mixed gently until juice is drawn out and sugar dissolved. Generally, one cup of sugar to five to six cups of fruit is used.

Syrup Pack—

Slice or cut fruit directly into syrup. Heavy syrup is not recommended—it doesn't freeze rapidly and masks fruit flavor. It takes two-thirds to one cup of syrup per pint package of fruit.

Syrups Used Are—(Dissolve and chill beforehand)—

Thin — 1 cup sugar to 2 cups water—yield two and half cups.

Moderately Thin — 1 cup sugar to one and half cups water—yield 2 cups.

Medium — 1 cup sugar to 1 cup water—yield one and half cups.

Covering fruit with a syrup helps to avoid color and flavor change. Fruit can be kept submerged by placing a crumpled piece of wax paper on top and pressing down before closing.

Unsweetened Pack — there are three alternative methods:

1—Pack fruit without liquid or sweetening.

2—Pack with water containing ascorbic acid.

3—Pack crushed or sliced in own juice.

Syrup packs can be made using artificial sweeteners as well.

Darkening of Fruit — With peaches and apricots on the market and apples and prune plums yet to come, the use of ascorbic acid to prevent discoloration of fruit is a good note to end on.

Ascorbic acid tablets are more difficult to use than crystals. 1,000 mg. of ascorbic (vitamin C) is equal to half teaspoon in powdered form. Quarter ounce will do for about 40 pints of fruit.

In dry sugar pack, use quarter teaspoon ascorbic acid dissolved in quarter cup water for four cups of fruit. If a syrup pack is used, drop fruit first for three minutes in chilled brine (1 tablespoon salt to 5 cups water). Drain. Drop fruit into syrup, using one-eighth teaspoon ascorbic acid for each cup of syrup. Vitamin C is destroyed by long exposure to air, so work quickly, dissolving ascorbic acid in syrup just before using and stirring only enough to mix.

School Opening Added Traffic Hazard

Summer vacation ended this month, warns the National Safety League of Canada. With thousands of children returning to school, this means added responsibility for motorists. Grown-ups should remember that children lack the power of concentration and awareness for their protection, especially during the early weeks of school. Drivers are urged to be extremely watchful in residential and school areas, to approach school buses with extra care and to observe provincial laws governing school buses.

The League suggests parents accompany young children walking to school for the first time. The problems encountered may prove very surprising. Changes in street patterns, traffic volume and controls can radically affect safe travel. "A little time given to this part of the child's traffic education will add immeasurably to his safety", advises the League.

To children riding bicycles the school League offers the following advice: ride single file at a safe distance behind the vehicle ahead; always dismount and walk the bike across heavily travelled streets and highways; carry packages or books in a basket; keep both hands on the handlebars; observe traffic rules and regulations at all times and watch out for cars ahead and behind. Like motorists, cyclists are required to give proper signals when turning and stopping.

"Be sure to do your part!" says the League.

Streams flowing from the Columbia Icefields on the western boundary of Alberta follow three watersheds to the Pacific, the Arctic Ocean and Hudson Bay.

If you smoke a filter-tip cigarette, the chances are the filter was made in Alberta at the Chemcel plant, one of Alberta's largest petrochemical industries.
